Feedback

If you have one minute, please complete our CRDO Feedback Form so that we know how better to help develop clinical research at MCRI.

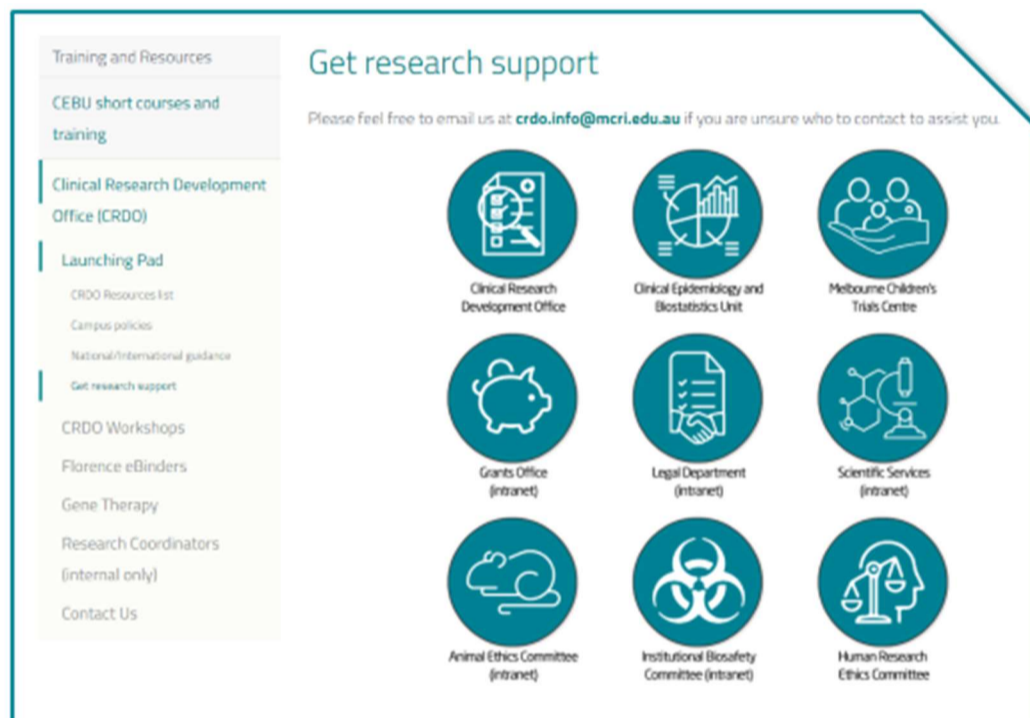

Now Re-Launching:

The CRDO Launching Pad has had a face lift-off! We have restructured the page (and added a touch of whimsy) to help you find and share templates, procedures, and guidance for every stage of your research project.

You can now share or jump directly to a section of the Launching Pad by clicking on the section title at the top of the page, and then copying the hyperlink. You can also hold CTRL+F on your keyboard to search words or phrases on the page.

On the side bar you can find RCH / MCRI policies, national and international guidance, and links to other research support.

But we are not finished. CRDO is organising a one-hour consultation with research staff to discuss:

- What resources you need
- How these resources should be presented
- Where these resources can be easily found

We would like your feedback to make sure you can find resources to help you rocket into your research. Please get in touch if you would like to participate in the consultation, or complete our very quick feedback form on the Launching Pad. We also always appreciate more general feedback at the CRDO feedback form.

Innovations in Investigator-Initiated Trials: A Lunchtime Livestream

Monday 26th April 1:00pm – 2:00pm

VCCC Clinical Trials Development Lead Professor Mark Rosenthal will showcase advances in Victoria's investigator-initiated trials landscape and practical developments from experts in the field, including CRDO's very own Kate Scarff.

You can Register online to learn more about clinical trials management and how new approaches will pave the way for greater participation. You can also review VCCC's resources at the Investigator Initiated Trial Toolkit.
